
Julie,
To a longtime friend since eighth grade. Hope it stays that way. Keep in touch after graduation,
Cathy

Julie,
To a good friend.
Good luck
in the future and with Bug!

Julie -
There really not too much
I can say except your a great friend with a pretty good personality. We've had a lot of good (friends) from places and good times!
Stay the way you are and you'll end up in the gutter.

Volume IV

A tapestry is composed of many patterns, each of which, in turn,
consists of hundreds, even thousands,
of individual threads.
Every thread is distinct,
weaving its own pattern.
Yet, in the end,
each thread is also a part of a larger pattern, which combines with other patterns to form
the finished piece,
A Tapestry.

Like the threads,
every student is an individual.
Each weaves his path in life,
changing throughout the years.
Yet, also like the threads, every student affects the small part of life around him, which in turn
is a part of the final pattern of life
A Tapestry of Time.

A dedication for someone truly dedicated,
one thread in tapestry
yet an important thread.

A teacher truly devoted to fulfilling the special needs of his special students.

A coach truly interested in his team.

A person who really cares, who is really involved with the school.

Above all a person who is truly himself,

Howard Bricker.

The tapestry has no beginning and no end.
Its patterns were woven in the past and continued into the patterns of the future.
These patterns of yesterday,
today,

Coaches Recognize Outstanding Team Members

Tired and weary at the end of yet another season, one of improvement, those involved with fall sports retired to the cafeteria for another banquet. The usual presentations of awards were made, and the usual congratulations given, leaving everyone with hopes for next year.

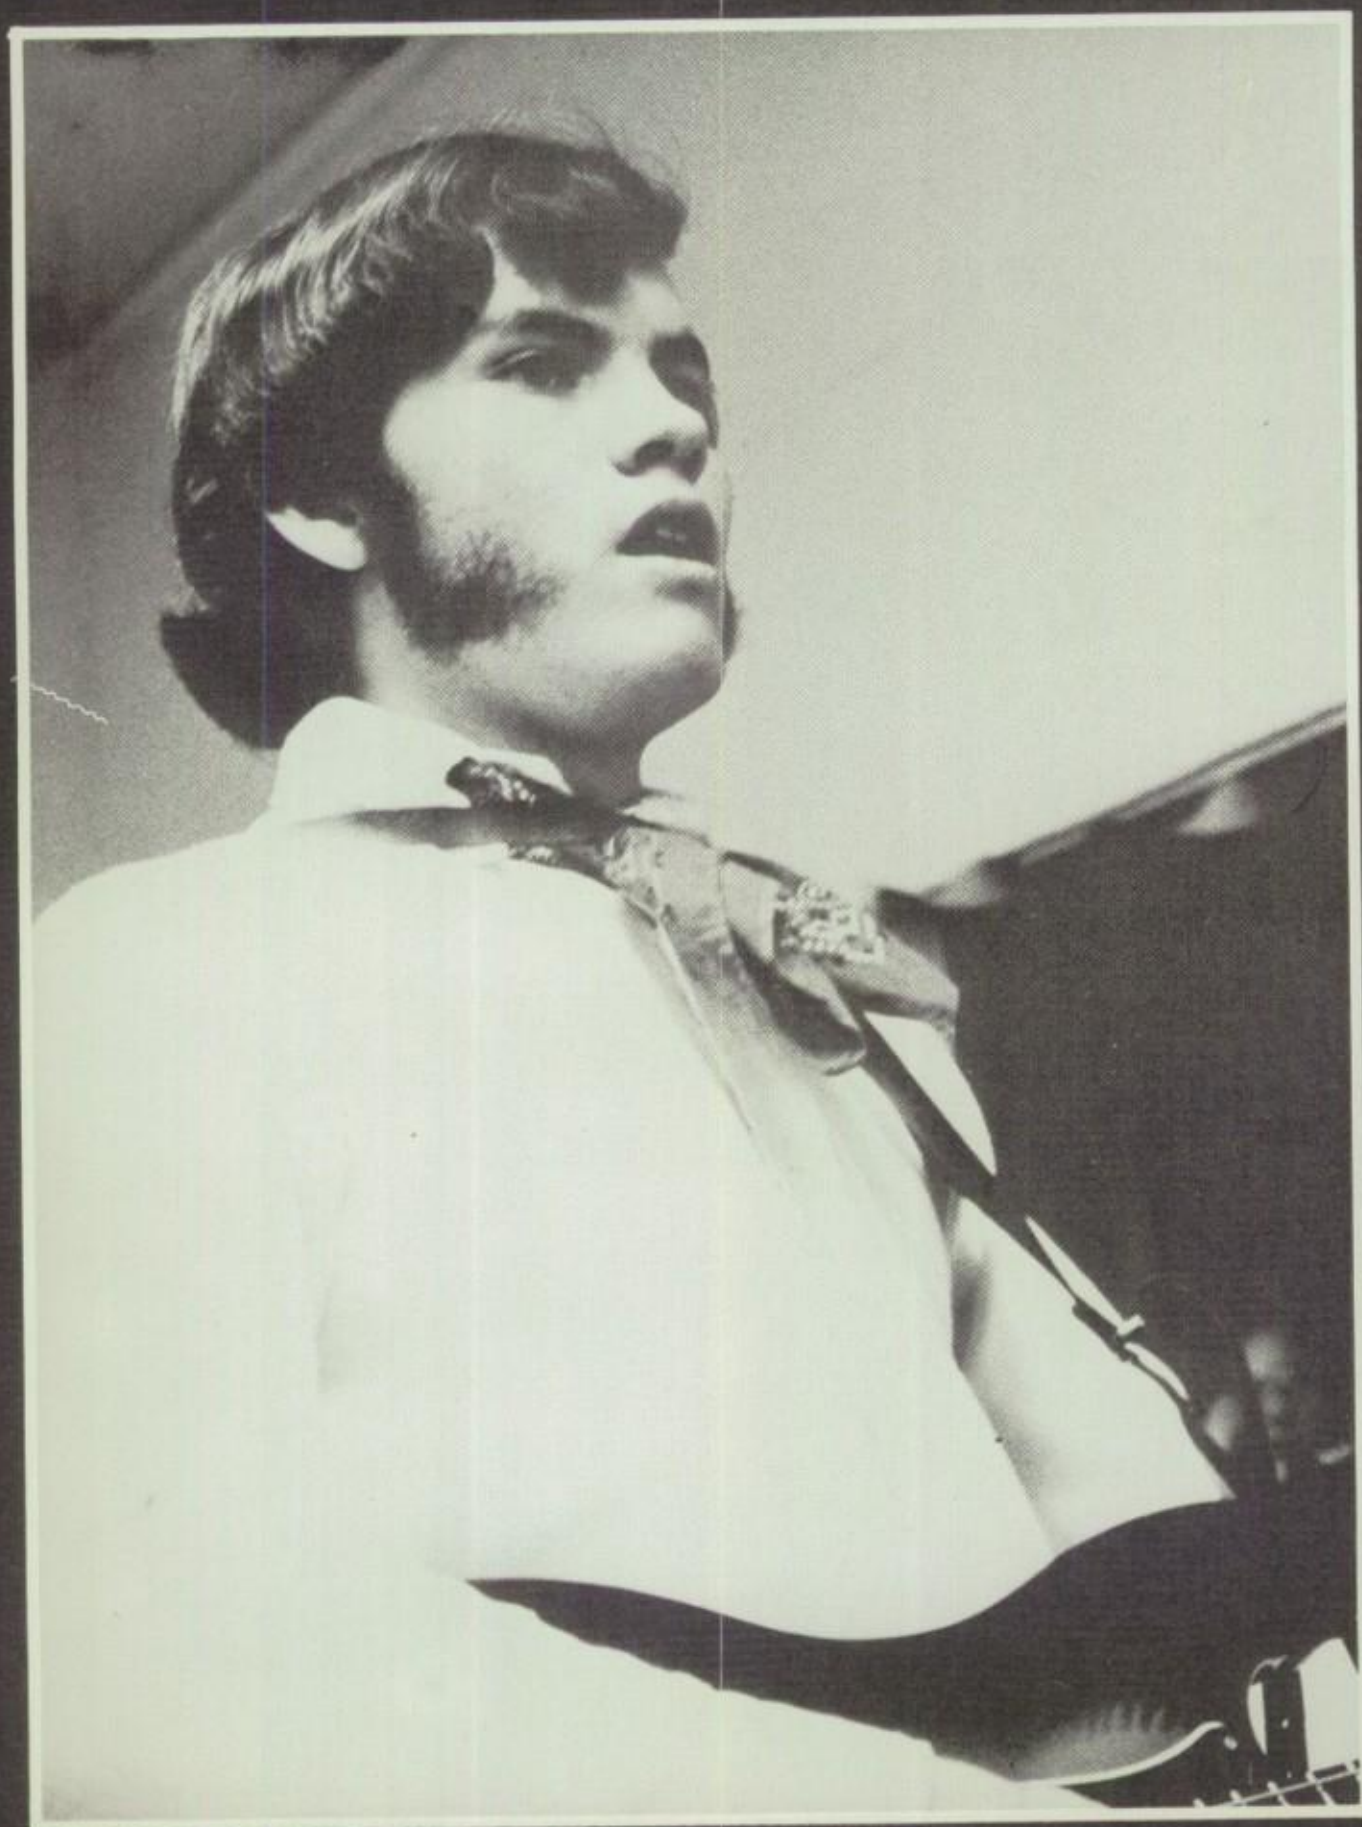
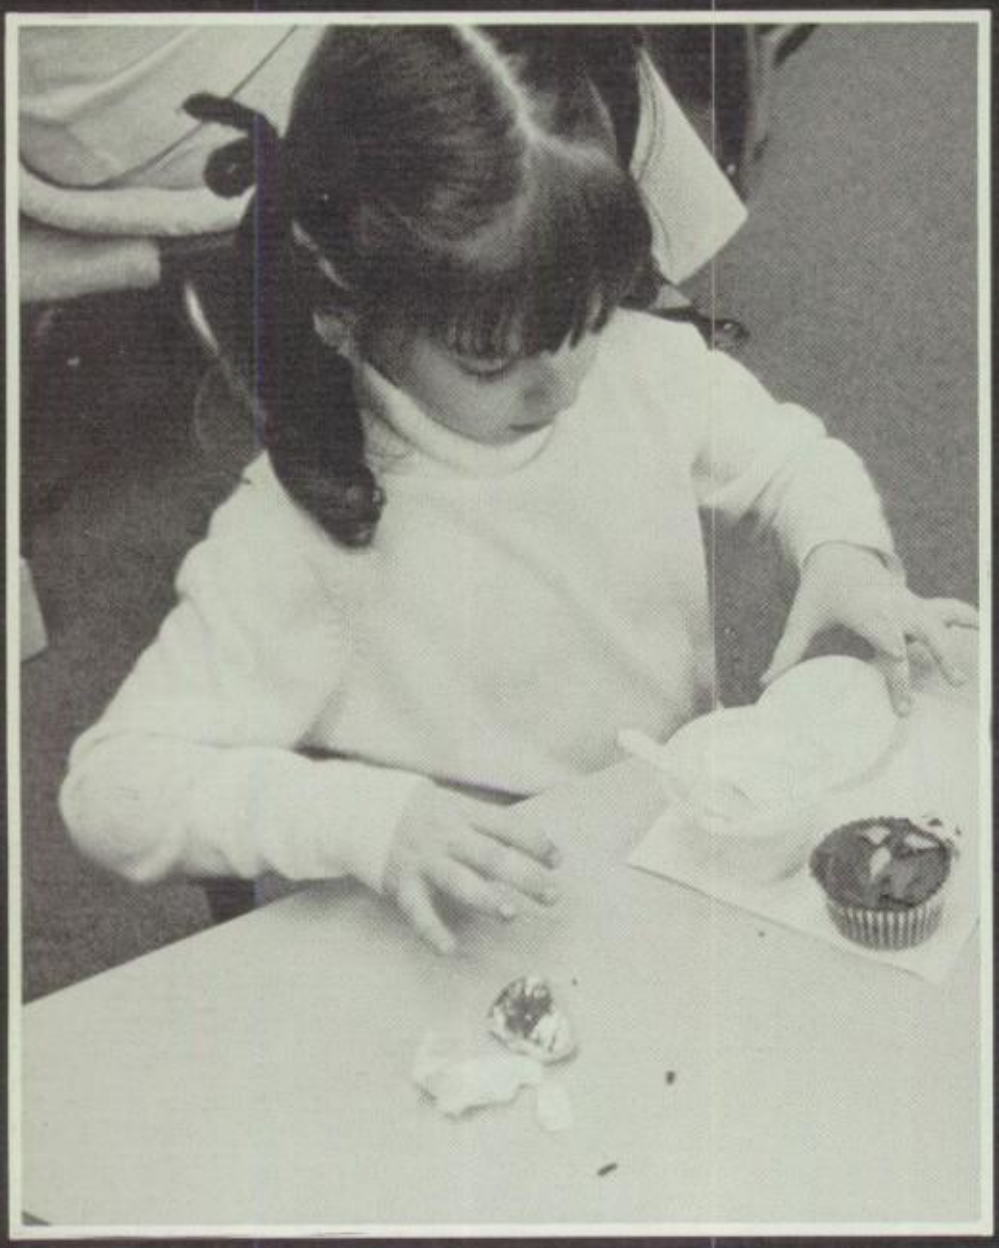
Alka-Seltzer, Anyone?

An evening of fun and festivities exploded within the walls of Big Walnut's cafeteria one cold November evening. Spanish music helped set the fiesta-like atmosphere, and tacos were the order of the day.



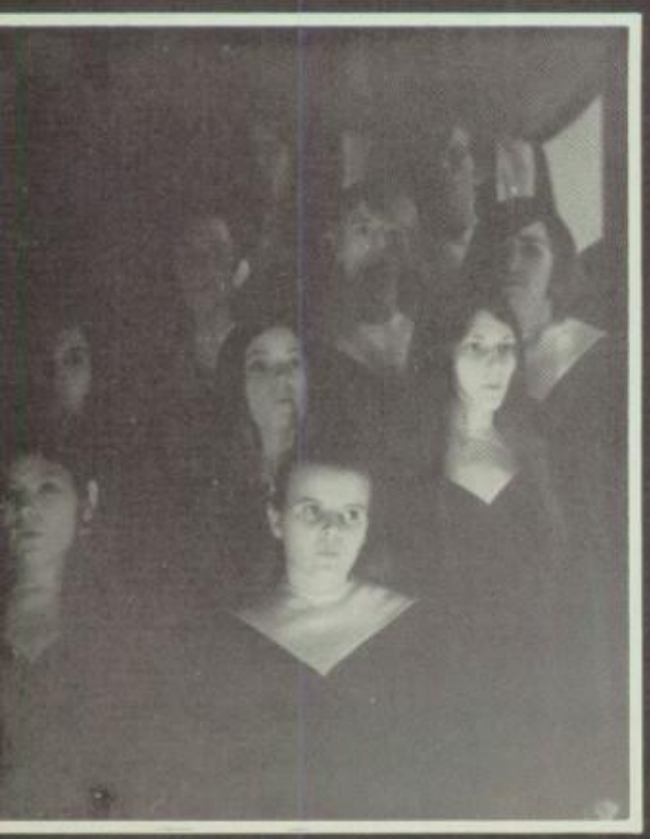


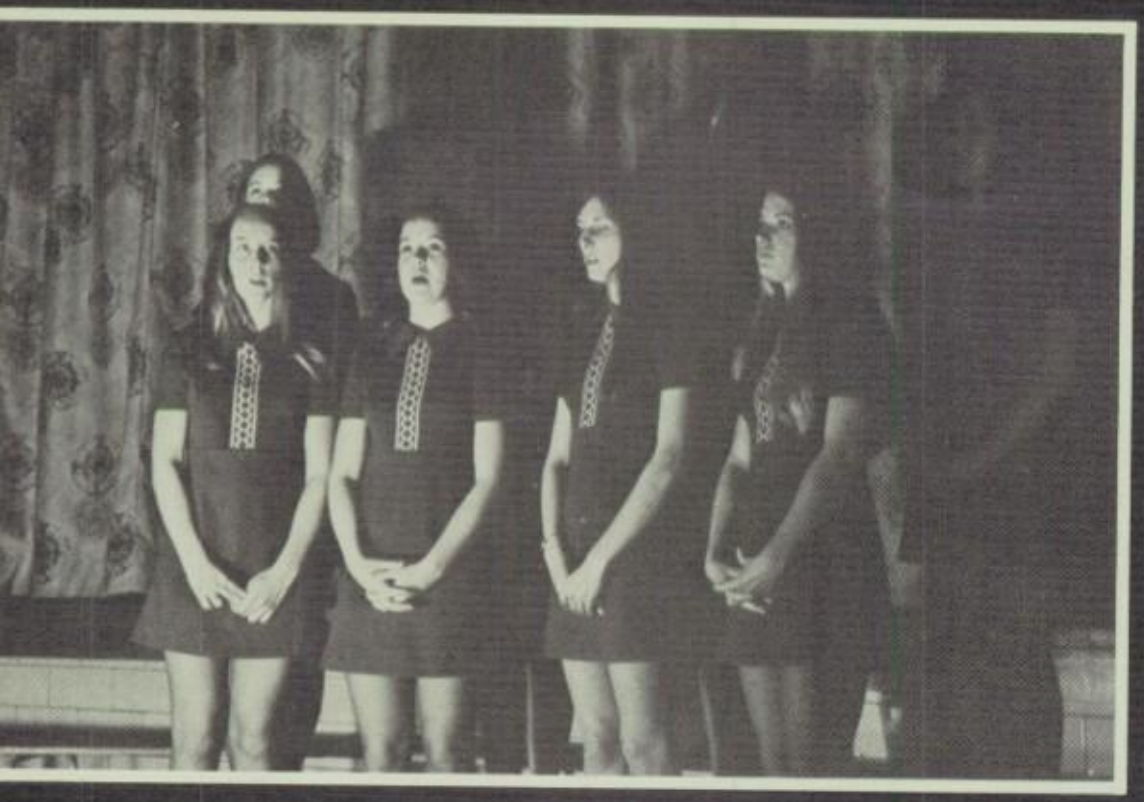
"Santa's Sick!!"

Every child in the kindergarten class sat spellbound as Mrs. Hammett's drama classes presented a play about Santa Claus having amnesia on Christmas Eve. "Jingle Bells" was the melody heard as the cast of the play and the children joined together to sing, ending the performance.

A Wonderland of Carols

Both the A Cappella Choir and the Mixed Chorus sang at the Christmas concert, turning the gym into a wonderland of Christmas dreams. Girls' Ensemble also contributed to the Christmas spirit of the evening.



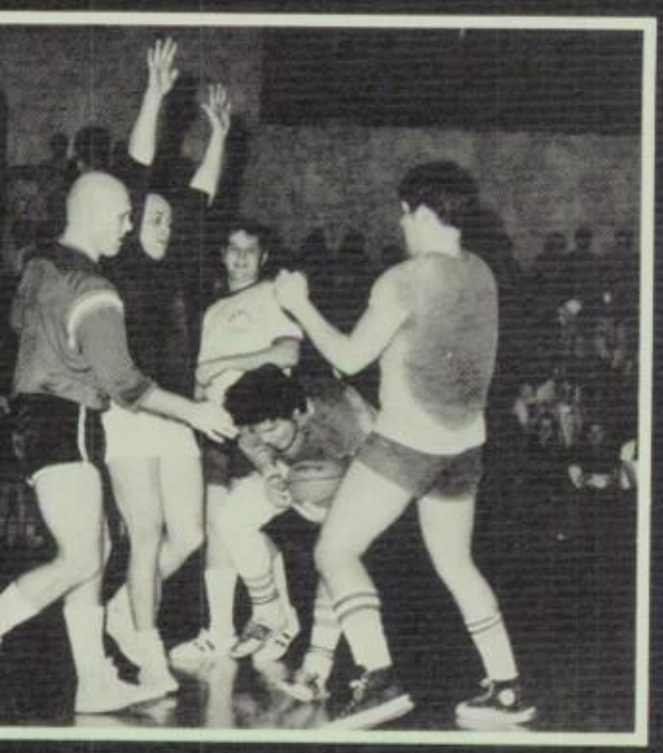


. . . of Festive Bells and Ancient Kings

The Christmas concert enabled the bands to show off their talents to the public. The Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Frazier, and the Symphonic Band, directed by Mr. Swearingen, played a variety of selections, filling the gym with the sounds of Christmas.

Think Parallel!!!

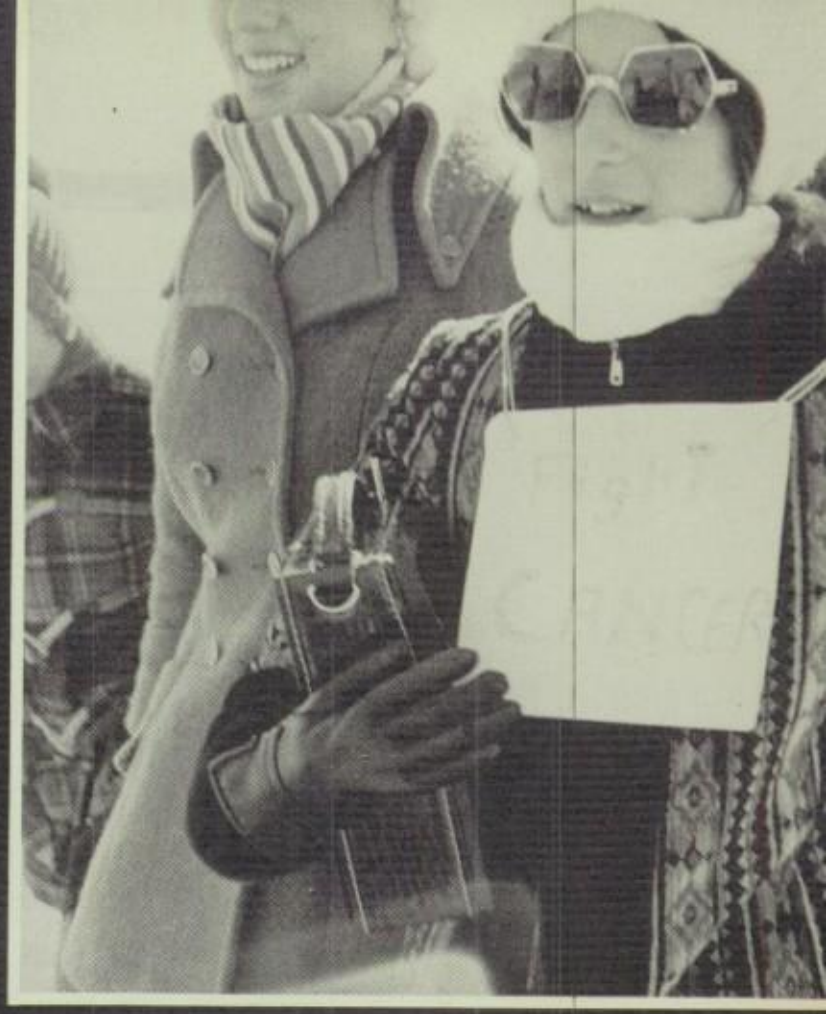
There is something about whizzing down a hill at top speed that makes a person feel very free. However, for the beginner, skiing requires a great deal of concentration just to accomplish the simple task of staying on one's feet. As a skier progresses from the one stage to the next, he realizes that with a little practice and a lot of luck, he can leave the world behind for a while and still end up in one piece.



The running feud between faculty and students was revived by a basketball game held to benefit the Cancer Queen Fund. Once again, the faculty came out on top, this year playing the All-Stars from the intermural teams.

So That Your Next Breath Won't Be Your Last!

Cancer Queen Sue Heil and her supporters worked very hard to win the Delaware County Cancer Queen title. A ten-mile walk between Hoover Dam and Sunbury, a basketball game between the coaches and WNCI disc jockeys, and a variety show featuring local talent all helped to put Big Walnut on top once again.



Big Walnut's coaches, players, cheerleaders, and fans flocked to the gym to honor the team at the annual basketball banquet. Spirits were high as the awards were given and accepted, and congratulations were made, with thanks to all for a fine season.

Ecology Minded Farmers Receive Commendation

The gym was transformed into a country garden for the annual FFA Banquet. Highlights of the evening were the crowning of a FFA Queen, the handing out of awards, and the announcement of next year's officers.

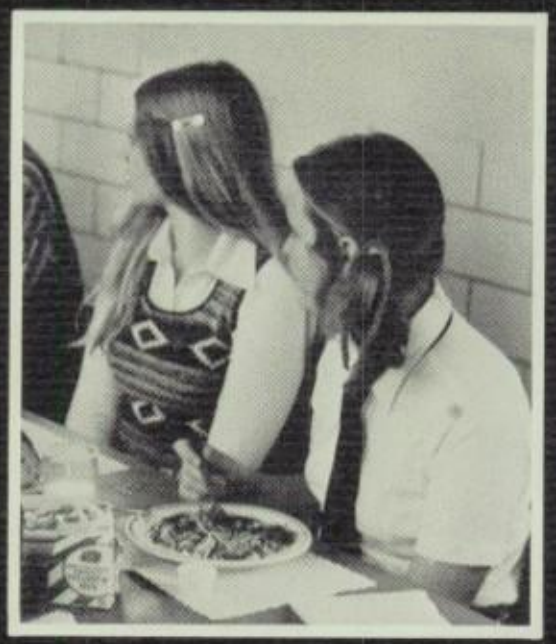
Top — Dick Fisher takes post as 1973-74 FFA President.
Opposite Top — Advisor Gary Bauer.
Opposite Bottom — Brian Lawless, Star Sophomore Farmer; Marvin Hall, Star Senior and Chapter Farmer; Allen Fling, Star Greenhand; Greg Leaf, Star Junior Farmer.

Dego's Delight



Every class must put forth a great deal of effort to pay for the prom. The Sophomores worked hard to organize a spaghetti supper that turned Big Walnut's cafeteria into an Italian restaurant.

Vocational Clubs Honor Seniors and Employers

Students in two of Big Walnut's vocational programs, DECA and OWE, held banquets to honor their employers. These banquets expressed feelings of appreciation for these employers, with the realization that without them, there could be no DECA or OWE.

B.W. Captures 3 Awards

Big Walnut captured three of four soloist awards at the Stage Band Festival, in which the Buckeye Valley, Hayes, and Cardington stage bands also participated. The festival also featured a talented performance by guest soloist Dave Gobel.

Big Walnut Stage Band Festival Winners — Darwin Bingham, Mark Wurm, and Greg Emler.

Banquet Not Cancelled Due to Rain!!!

Weather was a problem during the spring sports season, but the spring sports banquet took place on a beautiful evening. A crowd of Eagle fans turned out for the banquet and the presentation of awards to outstanding athletes.

Top Right — Senior Charlie Gambill receiving golf's only trophy, the Highest Scoring trophy.
Opposite — Paul Litzinger holder of two track trophies; the Eagle Award and Highest Pointman.

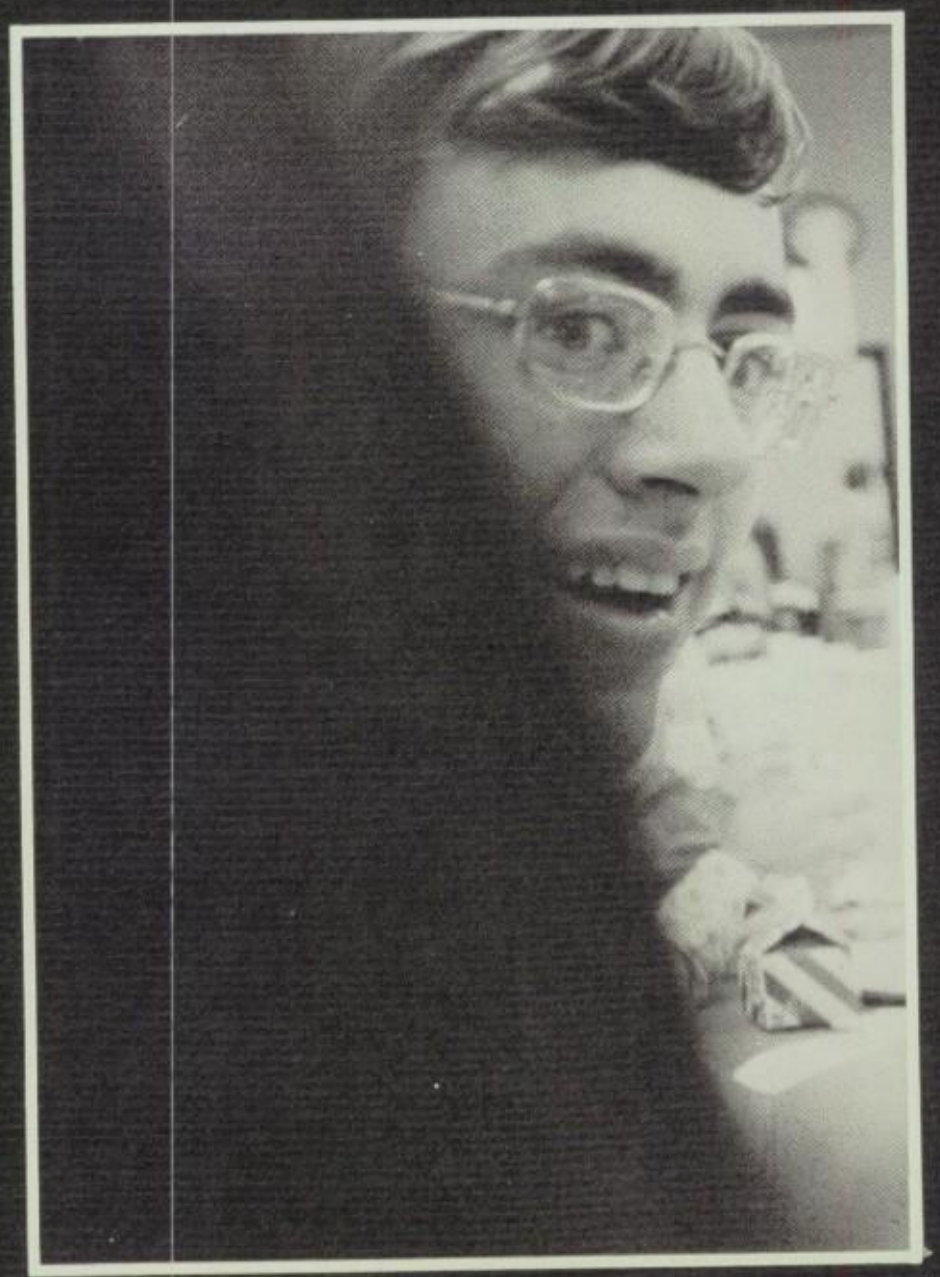
Breakfast Changes Tradition



A brightly decorated cafeteria was the site for the senior breakfast, a departure from the traditional senior luncheon. Following the breakfast, numerous awards were handed out to many outstanding seniors. Entertainment helped to liven up this awards assembly, which was also brightened by the presentation of this year's EAGLE dedication.

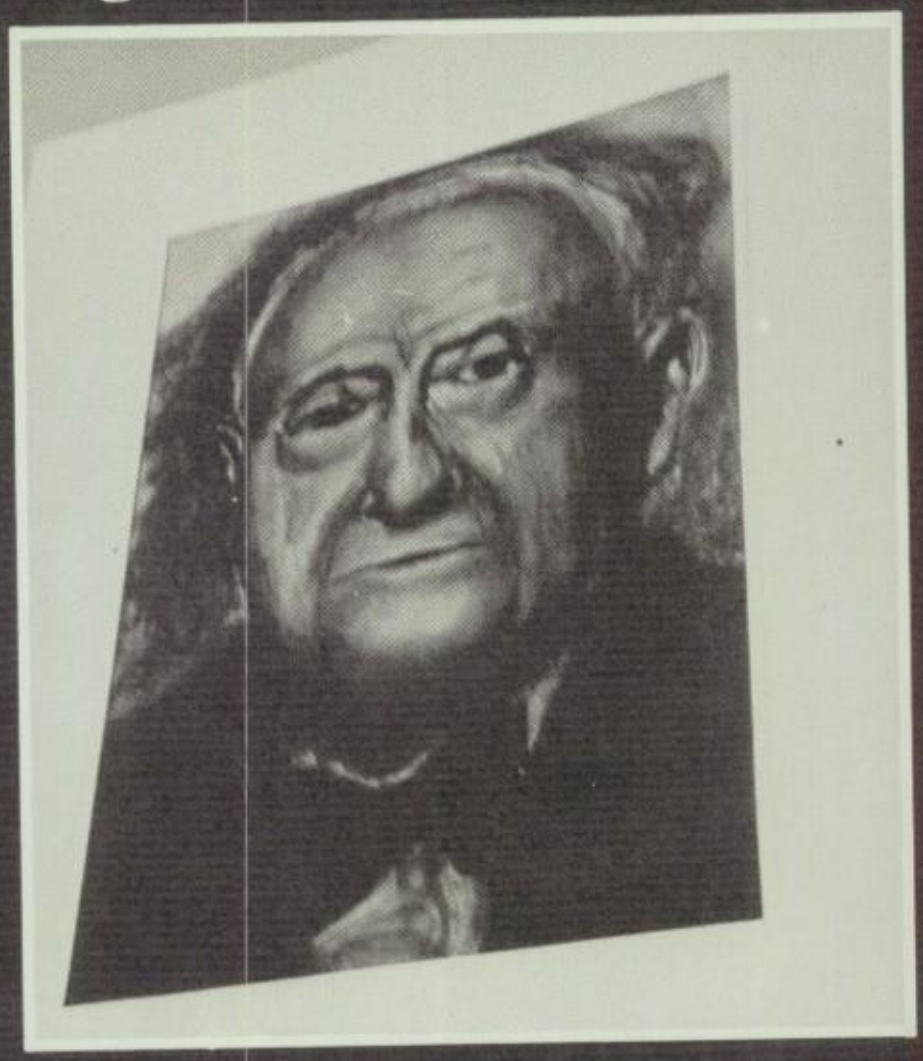
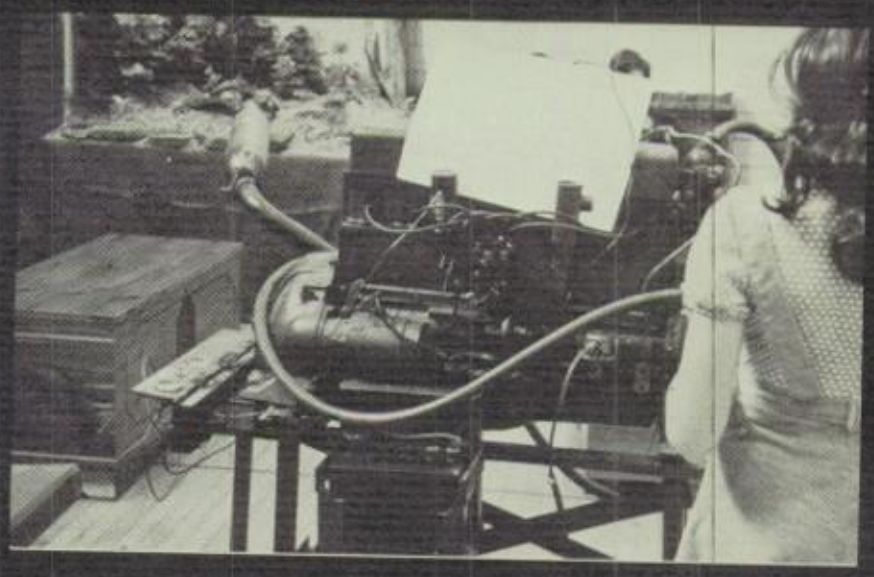
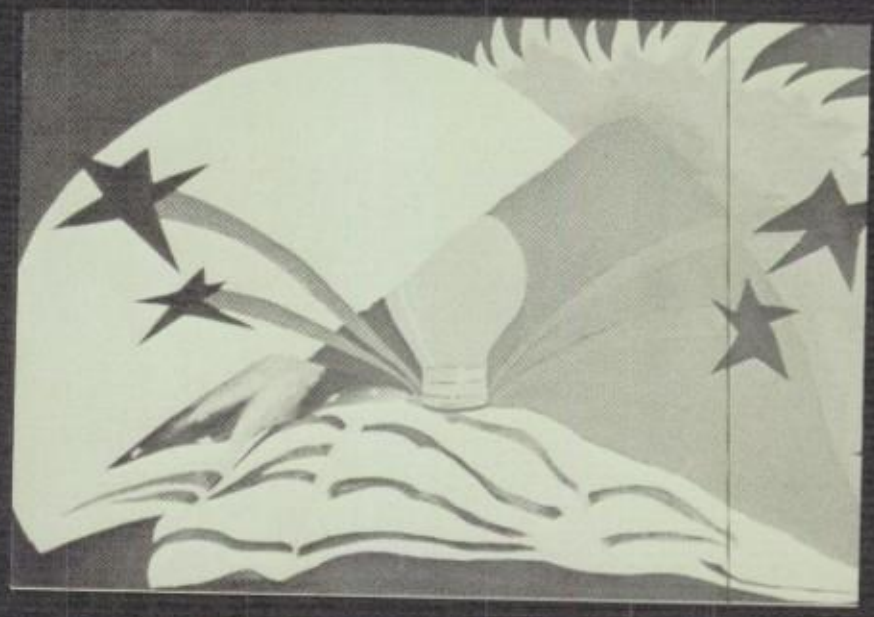
Arts Festival Shows Wide Range of Students' Ability

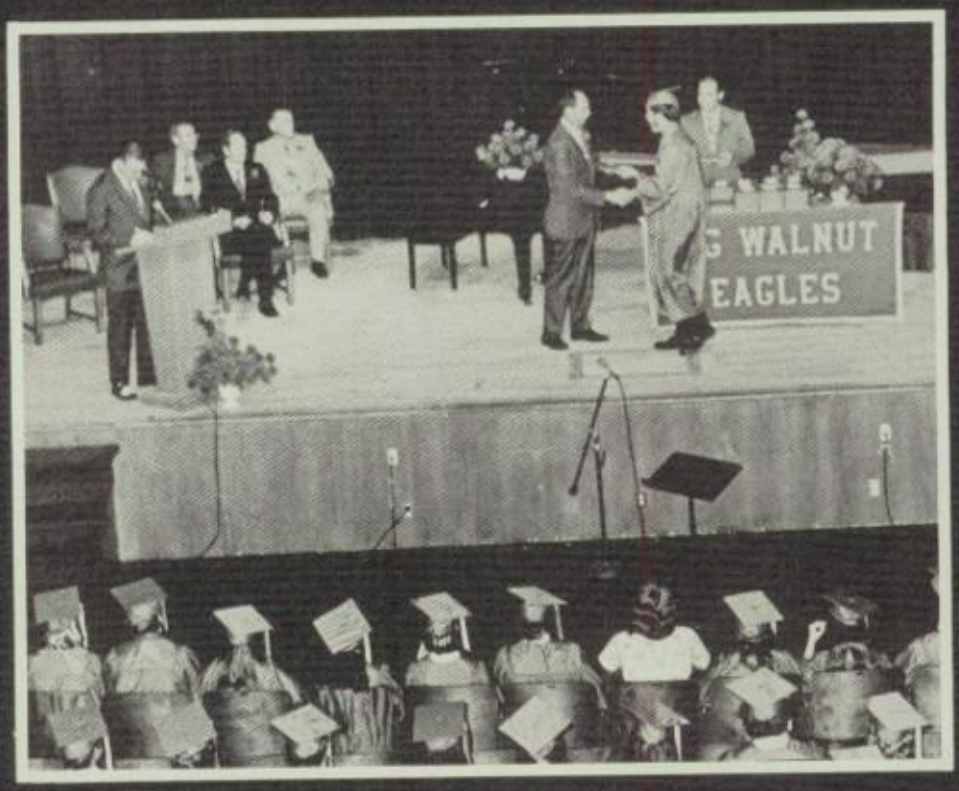


The annual arts festival again showed off the talents of some of the school's more artistic students. The show also helped to make funds to continue and enlarge Big Walnut's art department.





After twelve long, hard years, the day of graduation arrived for the Class of '73, and the class members prepared to leave one stage of life and enter another.



G WALNUT
EAGLES

Graduation was a sequence of events that seemed to take place very rapidly: processing down the aisle, listening to speakers, receiving the diploma, and finally, marching out and crossing the street to be greeted by friends and relatives. It happened suddenly and was over.

Both an end and a beginning, graduation is yet another part of the tapestry.
It is the transition from one pattern to another,
a transition that will help the tapestry to change,
form new patterns,
and continue.

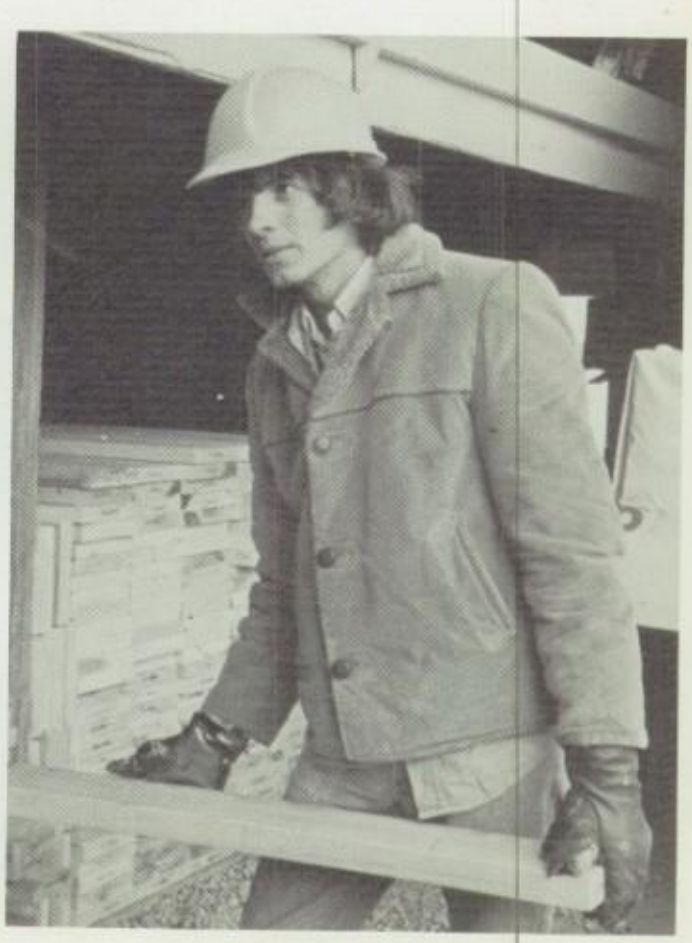
OWE Officers — Steve Morgenstern, Treasurer; Kathy Fuller, Secretary; Mike Inghram, President; Jim Locke, Vice-President.

Occupational Work Experience Club

Occupational work experience is just what its name implies; it is a program of study designed to allow students to work one-half day in order to gain experience in actual work activities.



Y-Teens

A Y-Teens Chapter was reorganized this year at Big Walnut under Miss Jane Elshoff. The many activities of this club included a fashion show in May presented by the Sears Fashion Board and a swimming party in March. The Y-Teens members also assisted with the Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by CCL.

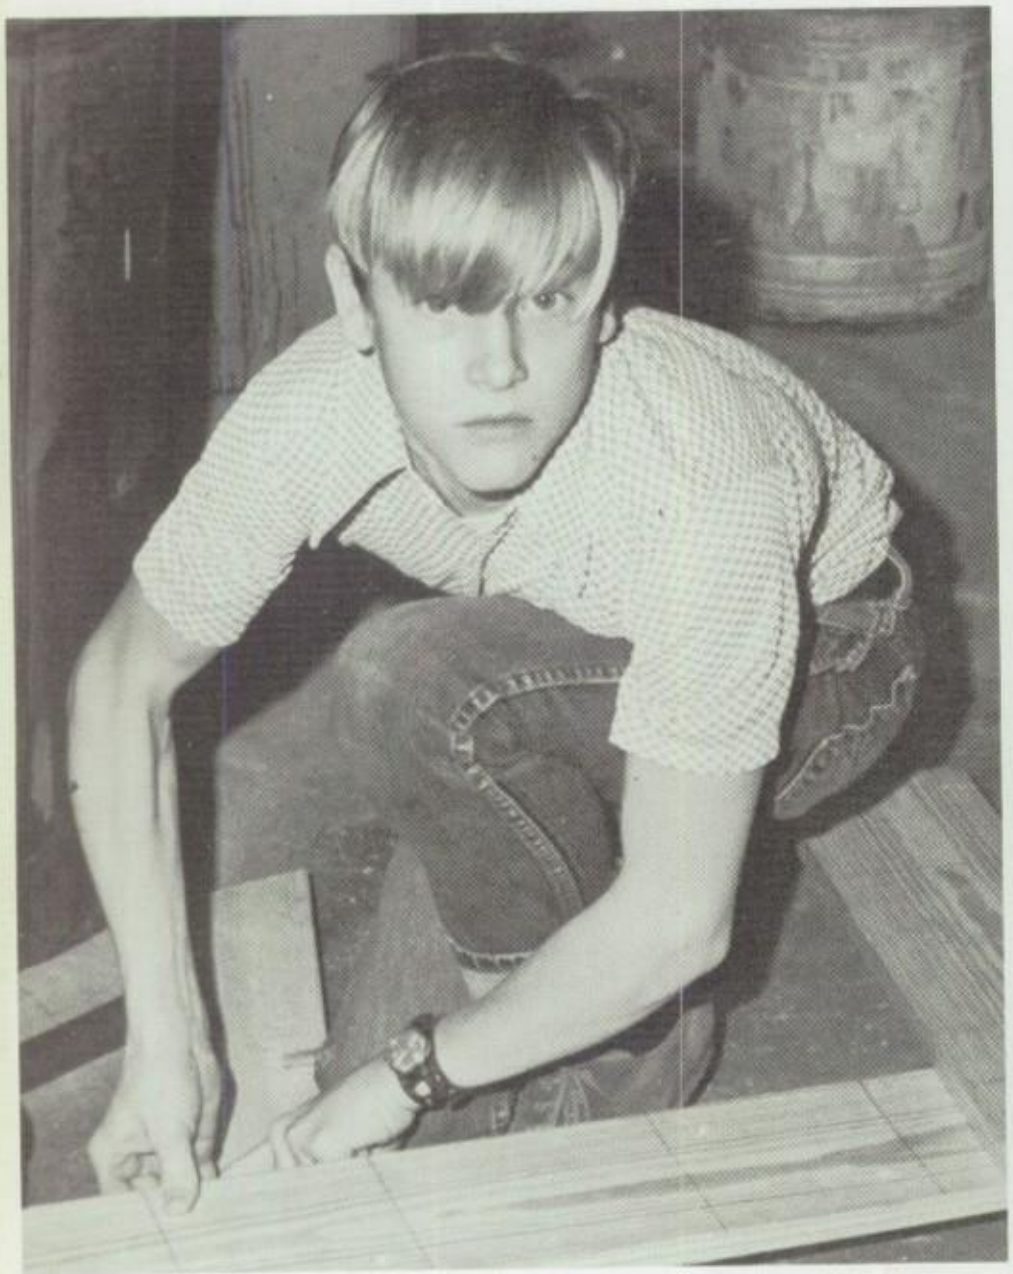
Future Farmers of America

Future Farmers made a place for themselves in the world by making the Big Walnut FFA one of the top chapters in the nation. Going to various competitions, holding FFA Work Day, attending the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, and helping with the Sunbury Fourth of July Celebration were just a few of the many activities that made our FFA something special.



FFA — row 1: K. Jacobs, K. Kahrmann, R. Zieschang, A. Fling, A. Davidson, C. Adams, R. Kirkendall, D. Smith, C. Maroney, P. Hubbard, M. Bradford, row 2: J. O'Quinn, J. Clark, S. Hiles, T. Crooks, J. Science Club

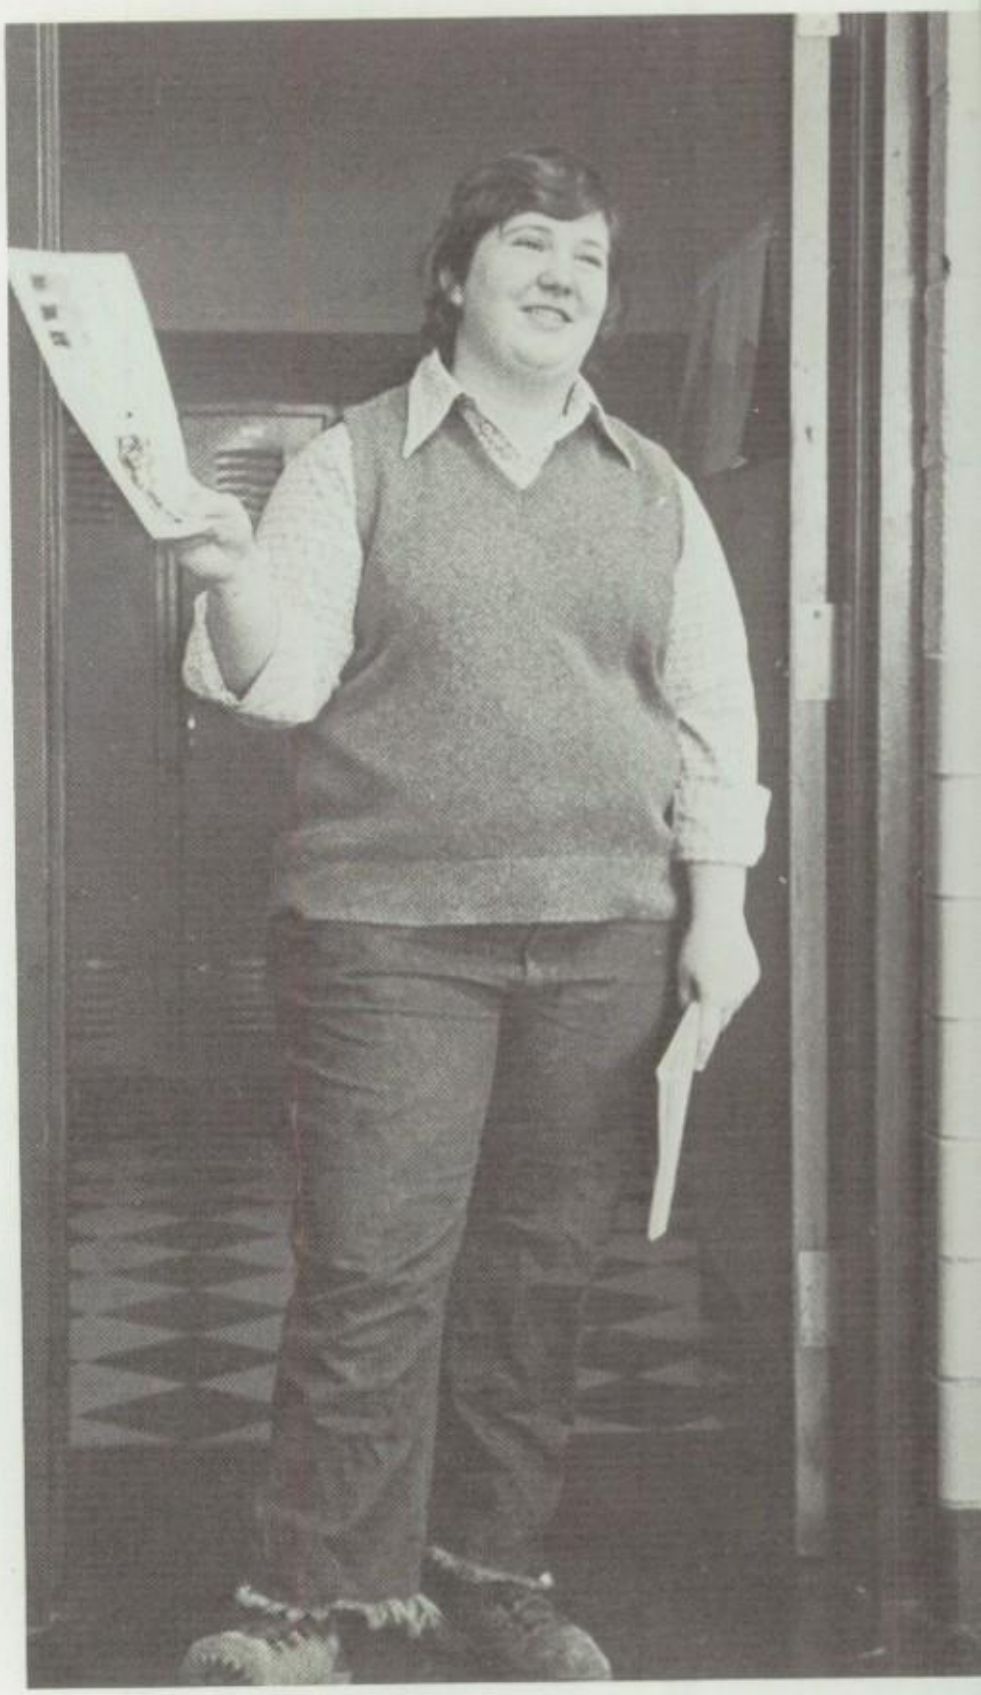
The study of the various sciences gives the individual the chance to observe the world around him. This allows him to live a more ordered, well-planned life, following his own special path.

Science Club — K. McClintock, row 1: R. DeClue, T. Allard, J. Baker, row 3: R. Nitzche, K. Lines, M. Selvage, C. Brown, M. Byers, row 4: K. Murphy, D. Wolfe, C. Meade, D. Bradford, M. Hall, G. Yinger, M. Wurm, row 5: D. Yost, W. Lawrence, T. Crooks, D. Bingham, T. Steelsmith.
Science Club Officers — K. Murphy, News Reporter, R. DeClue, President, D. Bingham, Vice-President and Secretary, T. Steelsmith, Treasurer.

Eighth — Grade Future Farmers

It is here that Future Farmers gain the experience to let them go on and work hard in the Senior High FFA. One activity exclusively for eighth-graders, it helps them adjust to the hectic high school life.

Eighth-Grade FFA — seated: M. Hall, President, M. Lawless, Vice-President, R. Crooks, Treasurer, D. Barney, Secretary, J. Gulick, Sentinel, J. Christy, L. Wollett, J. Hildreth, B. Russell, standing: B. Phillips, J. Bell, C. Dygert, D. McKenzie, J. Sharon, B. Phillips, D. Routte, G. Cockrell.



Eagles on Review

Putting out a school newspaper once a month requires a great deal of time and energy. Members of EAGLES ON REVIEW staff try to fulfill this requirement, and strive to make each issue the best ever.

Chess Club

This organization promoted "the thinking man's sport" by holding weekly after-school chess matches. Who knows, one of them might turn out to be another Bobby Fischer!

Chess Club — row 1: W. Newland, J. Allard, K. Jacobs, R. Hood, T. Forman, row 2: D. Worley, R. Nitzshe, President, K. Lines, K. Young, Mrs. Searles, T. Allard, B. Morgenstern, Treasurer, row 3: M. French Club

Every culture is a part of the tapestry, and understanding a foreign culture helps to keep the tapestry together. Learning of French customs and traditions, and even French slang, helps in this understanding.

French Club — row 1: L. Stockwell, R. Eberhard, Mrs. Seiler, K. McClintock, C. Bricker, M. Davenport, row 2: M. Wurm, E. Angel, M. Sabados, J. Roach, S. Anderson, J. Frye, M. Mazzon, T. Powell, row 3: S. Lord, M. Pierce, J. Bergendine, W. Lawrence, M. Robinson, C. Petrie, C. Griffith.

French Club Officers — standing: Erin Davidson, President, Laurie Stockwell, Secretary, Richard Eberhard, Vice President, sitting: Etta Angel, Treasurer, Sue Lord, News Reporter.

Girl's Athletic Association

Girl's Athletic Association gives girls the opportunity for participation in sports through intramural and intermural programs. It also gives girls an opportunity for having fun through various parties. Christmas caroling with the Varsity Club was another way of having fun, but also was a way of bringing cheer to the community.

GAA — row 1: L. Hannah, K. Garee, B. McGovern, S. McElwee, K. Jones, J. Hines, J. Mascari, B. Jackson, B. Durrett, M. Sherrets, D. Pond, D. Klamfoth, D. Smith, row 2: C. Comstock, K. Lines, K. Varsity Club

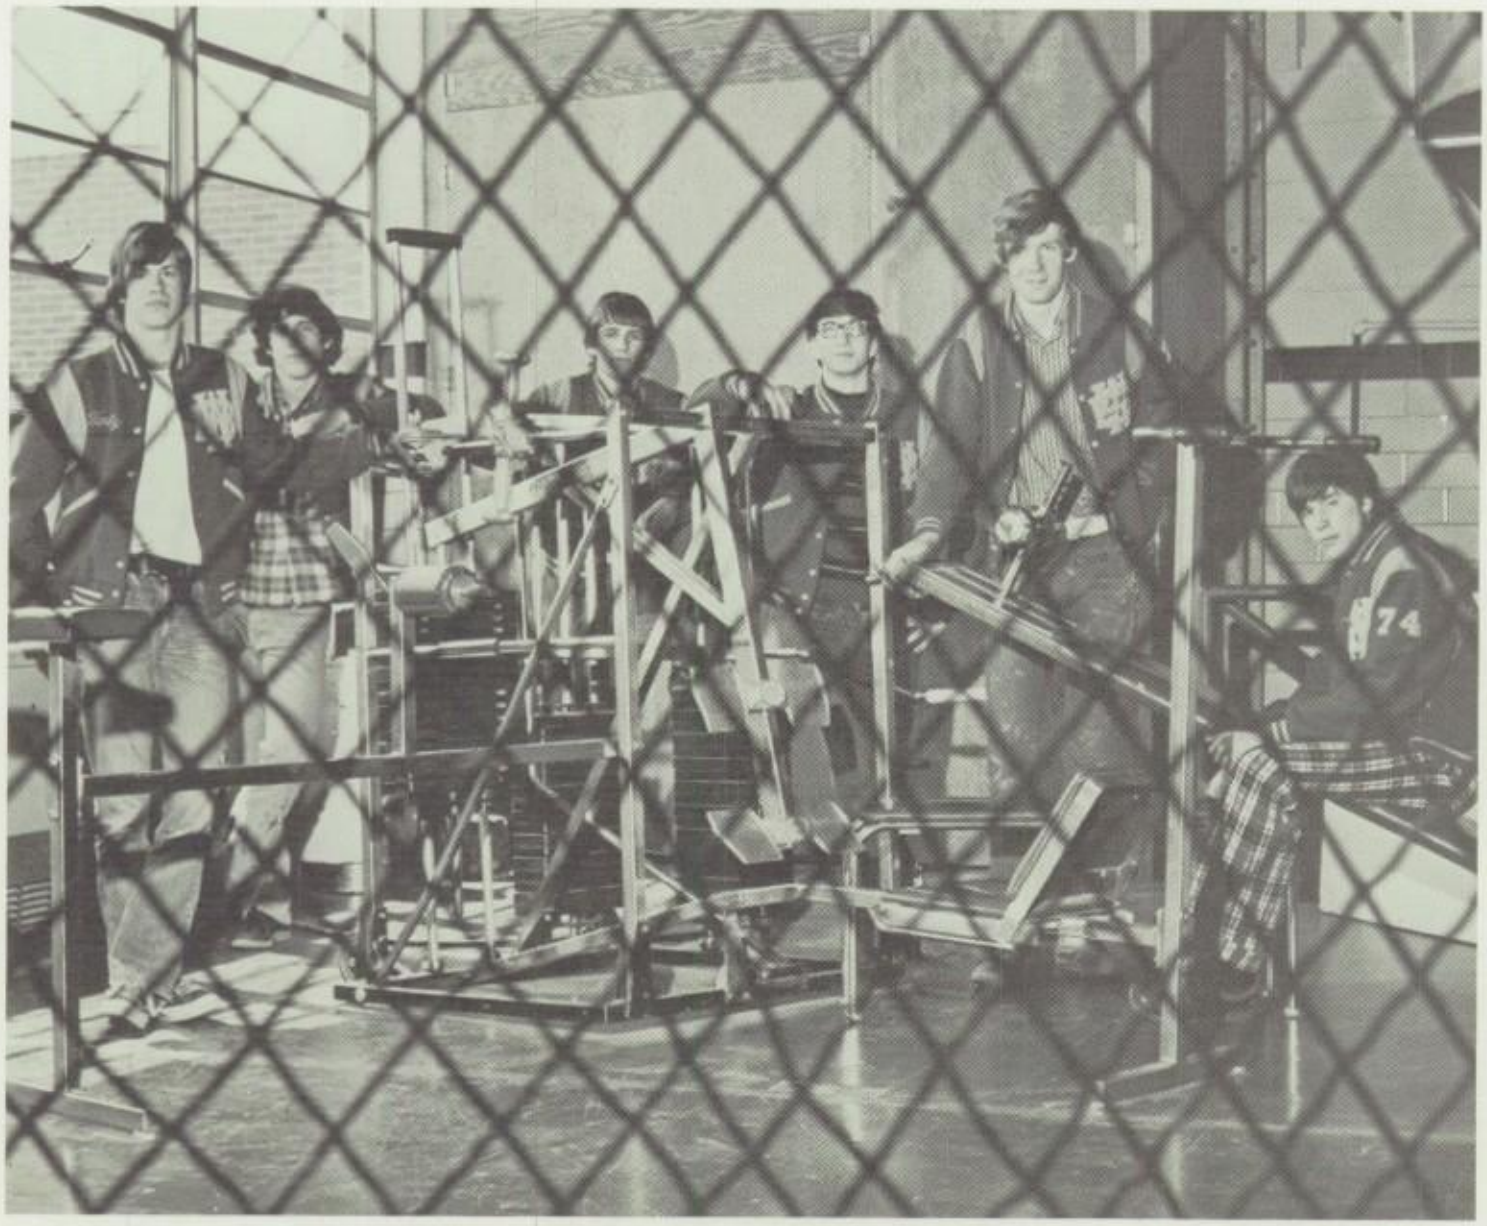
Participation in sports is extremely important in the lives of many people. The boys of Varsity Club are among this group of people. Selling buttons at noon was just one of the many ways members worked to keep the interest in sports alive.



New Members — K. Griffith, M. Hall, T. Vincent, J. Buxton, S. Hines, D. Allen.
Varsity Club — row 1: S. Kesler, M. Roof, S. Hiles, D. Wolfe, G. Perfect, P. McGovern, D. Barrow, J. Kaufman, R. Hood, R. Hood, Mr. Nelson, row 2: D. Counts, M. Forman, J. Kuhn, R. Morgan, W. Each year in August, the marching band begins practice for a new season. This year, in addition to the colorful performances given at halftime of the football games, the marching band participated in several contests. One busy weekend in October saw the "Golden Eagle" band marching at halftime of the Mount Gilead game, competing at Fairborn, and participating in the Buckeye Valley Band-O-Rama. Two prizes in competition were the reward for a season of practice and hard work.

Eagles Wear Laurels Into Another Season of Masterful Wins

To those who play it, football is not just a sport; it is an experience. The hard practices, the rough games, and at the end, the joy that comes with victory, and the bitterness that accompanies defeat are all a part of this experience, an experience that could be compared in many ways to the tapestry that is life.

For seniors, that last game was both a happy experience and a sad one. Happy because the Eagles won the game, yet sad because it was the last high school football game for these players. It was an end, but a happy end.

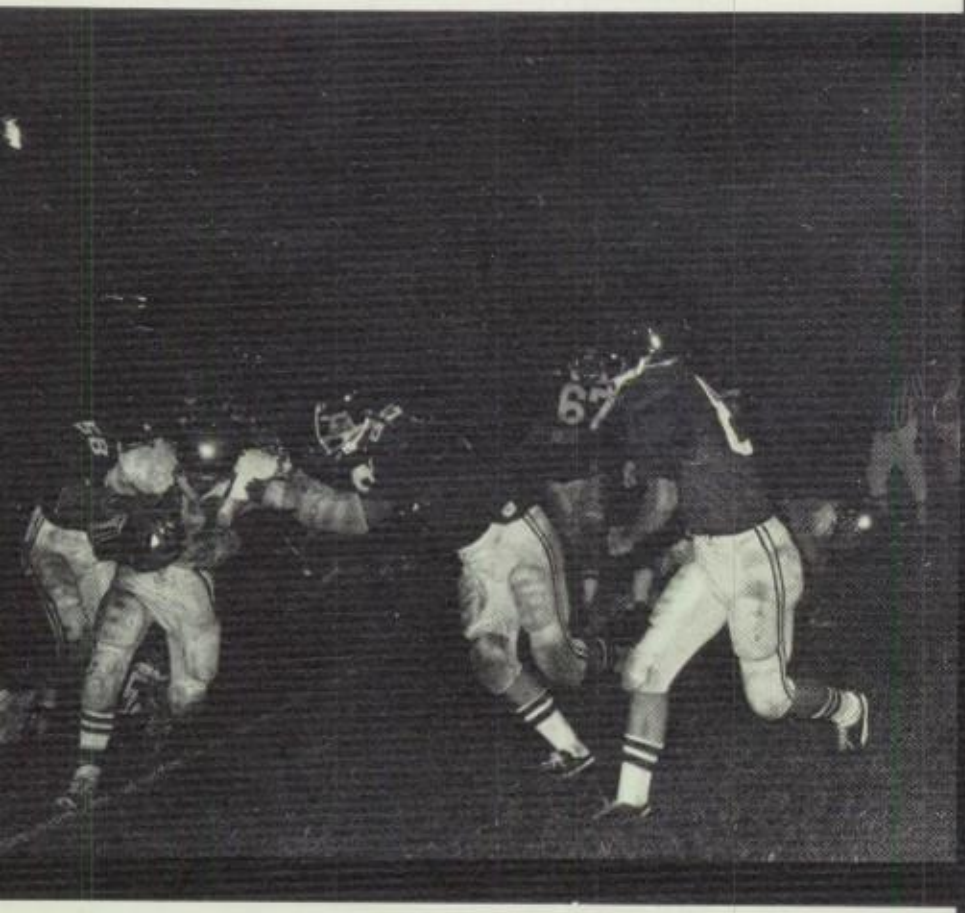
Eagles' Drive Leaves Wake of Battered Opponents

It was a season of mud. Rain, rain, and more rain poured down, yet failed to dampen the spirits of the players and the fans. Even though the field was so bad at three games that the band was unable to march, the game went on.



The Really Big One Keeps the Fans Coming Back for More

Every football season leaves its impressions behind in the minds of those involved. Coach Jim Marshall and the varsity players will have their memories; the fans will have theirs. Old memories never die, and this season will not be forgotten.

Win or Lose, Snow or Mud, Football Remains Fall's Biggest Spectacular

Back again for another try, the Eagles proved that hard work and determination can make an improvement in a team. When all the summer and after school practices were a thing of the past, when the football season was completed, the Eagles and their fans looked back with pride, and looked forward with hope.

Eighth and ninth grade football players should not be forgotten. They too work hard, they too were determined to win, and through their work and determination, they gained the practice and experience to go on and become better reserve and varsity players.

Shoemaker's Boys Surpass Expectations

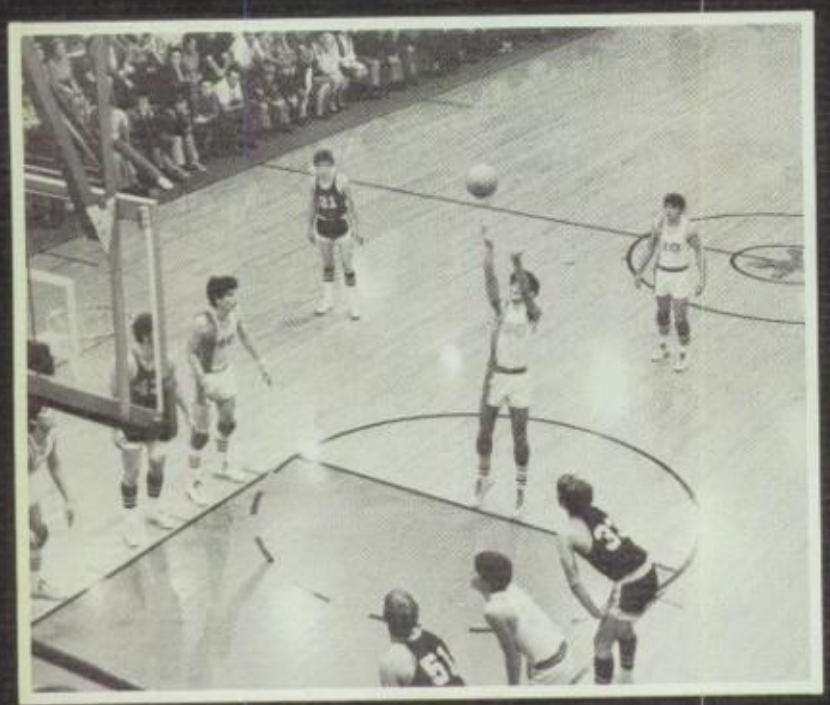
Another season of practice and striving for improvement came around this year for the cross country team. Under the guidance of another new coach, the team worked with as much determination as ever, and was rewarded by placing third in the Mid-Ohio, with hopes for improvement next year.

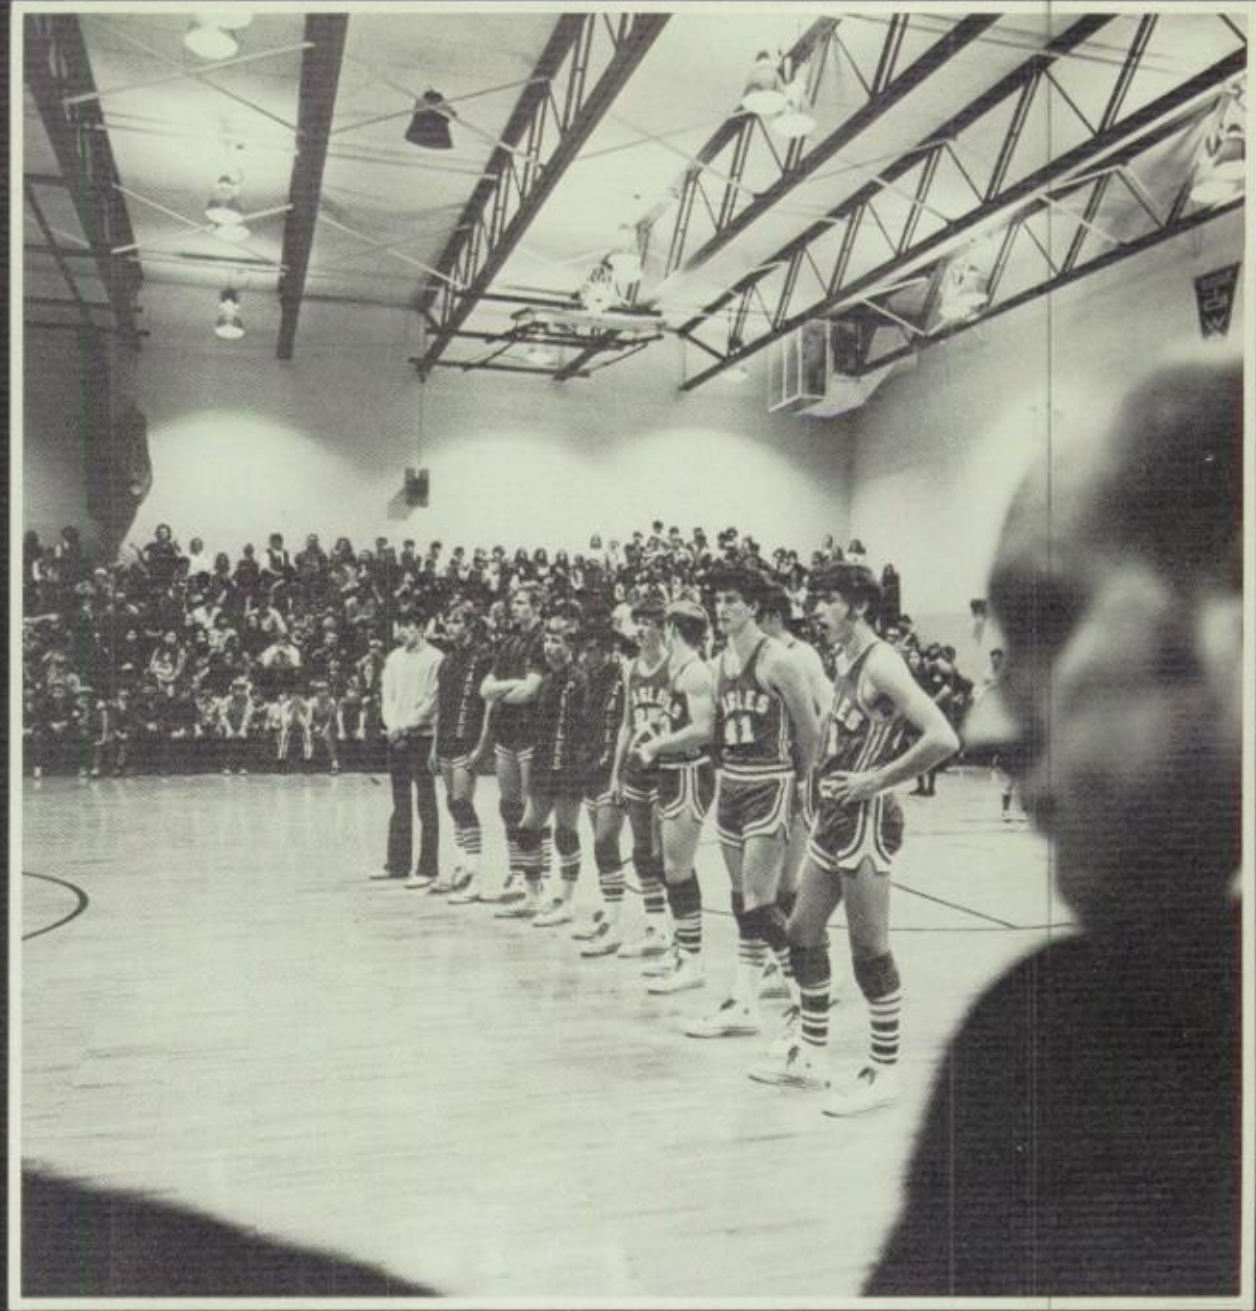
The Goal Was Greatness

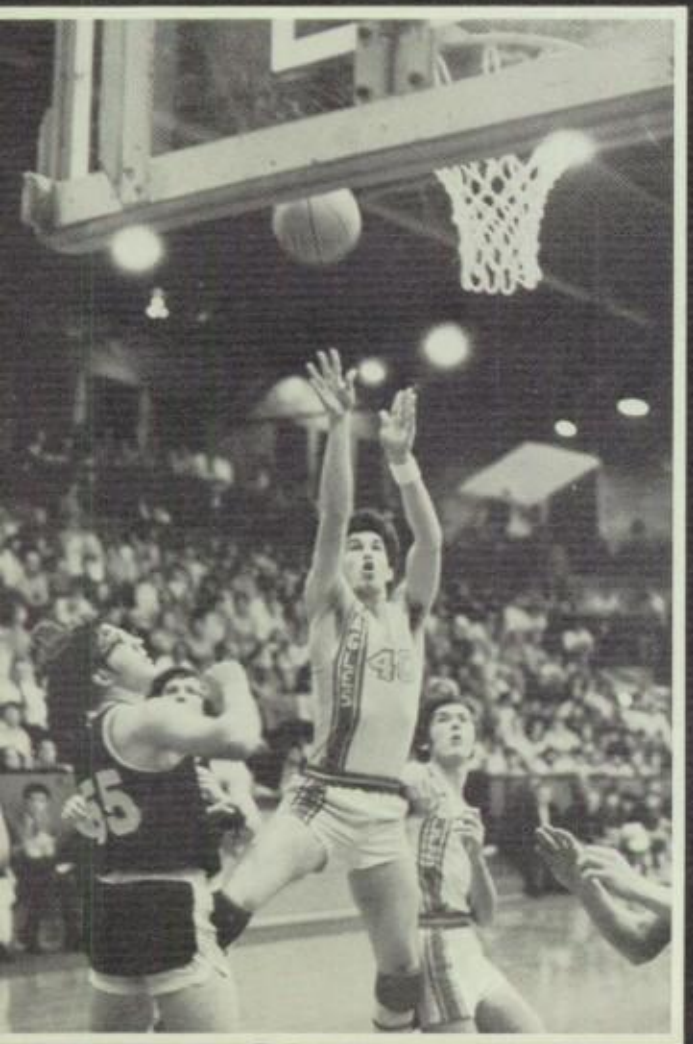
Trying to live up to the expectations of a successful winning season is a difficult task. A winning team must be driven by a burning desire to win. Winning should be a passion to them. No one is ever happy to come in second.

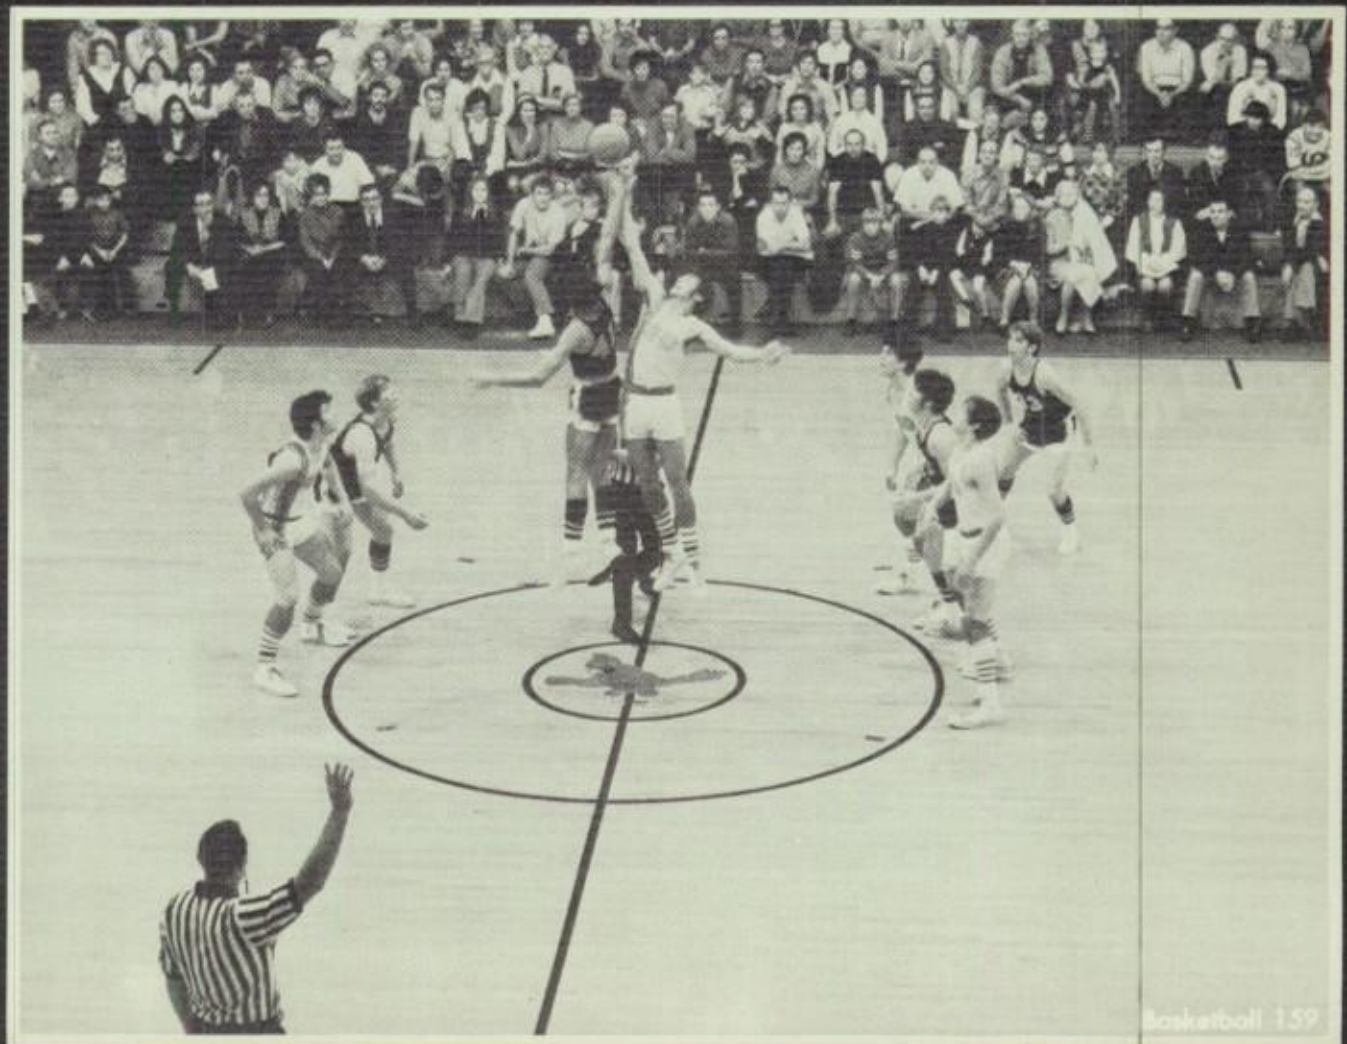
The man who loses learns to lose gracefully, nevertheless, he continues to covet victory — even more.

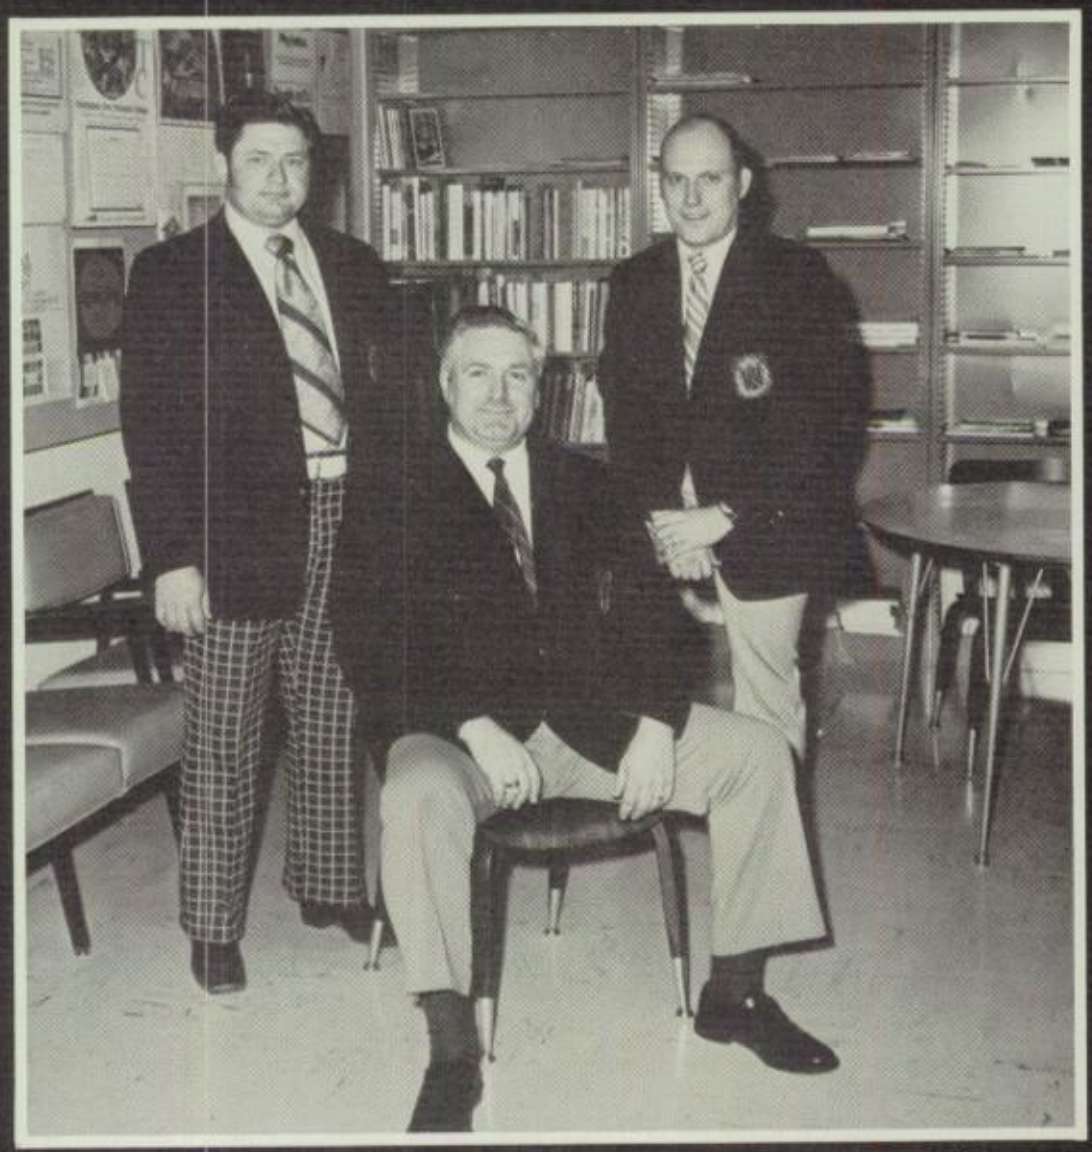
Although the regular basketball season ended 13-5, it proved at times, to be a disappointment. Two losses to arch rival Buckeye Valley by the Eagles was such a time. But these setbacks did not change the attitudes or desires of a young, inexperienced team to win and to excel.











Basketball Coaching Staff — Bob Kletrovetz, assistant varsity; Norm Nelson, reserve; Bob Shoemaker, head varsity.
